ABOUT STEVE

DIMIC LAW

Steve, a dedicated legal advocate, has witnessed firsthand the unprecedented challenges that individuals have faced throughout and since the global pandemic. As the driving force behind DIMIC LAW, Steve is unwavering in his commitment to guide and empower those navigating these tumultuous times. Fuelled by an unwavering motivation and an unrelenting passion for his work, Steve approaches each case with a level of dedication that is unparalleled.

Before immersing himself in the realm of law, Steve honed his skills within accounting firms and accumulated nearly a decade of experience in the dynamic energy industry. This background equipped him with a unique perspective, allowing him to effectively manage gas processing facilities and cultivate enduring relationships with a diverse clientele.

At DIMIC LAW, Steve specializes in the areas of corporate law, commercial real estate and civil litigation. Additionally, he also oversees the accounting, marketing, and procedural facets of the firm, showcasing his multifaceted expertise. Steve's dedication extends beyond the confines of his legal arena. He is a committed advocate of education, passionately striving to empower his clients with the knowledge and understanding necessary to make informed decisions. His commitment to the well-being of his clients is mirrored in his support for mental health causes, demonstrating his dedication to the community he serves.

Outside of the office, Steve cherishes quality time spent with his family. Steve appreciates the growing acting community in Calgary, and cherishes his hobby of actively participating "in the community" with his daughters. Steve enjoys weightlifting, running, yoga, swimming, boxing and cardio classes to maintain balance.

Steve is passionate about his community and actively seeks to make a difference and be more involved.

Dimic Law Provides Legal Guidance to Those Facing Foreclosure

Calgary, Alta - Dimic Law (#60, 180 94 Ave SE), a Calgary based law firm is supporting Calgarians facing potential foreclosure. Canadians have seen mortgage rates rise by 75 basis points in 2023 with no forecast for rates to drop for the remainder of the year. With current Alberta mortgage rates hovering between six and seven percent, many individuals are now unable to make payments on their properties and are facing the reality of foreclosure. Foreclosures have been up 25% for the past several years and this has left individuals looking to find out their rights when it comes to a foreclosure scenario. Steve Dimic, Founder of Dimic Law can provide advice and guidance on dealing with foreclosure situations.

“With the current economic situation, many individuals are facing foreclosure on their properties. The reality is that many do not know their rights when it comes to facing foreclosure and what legal options they have,” says Steve Dimic, Founder of Dimic Law. “At Dimic Law we see many different types of foreclosure situations and can provide individuals and businesses with the support and advice they need to make the best decisions for themselves and their future financial situation.”

As the foreclosure process can legally begin after just one missed payment, Dimic Law recognizes the importance of educating the public about their rights and potential courses of action. While several resources are available for those at risk of a repossession including Calgary Legal Guidance, student legal assistance and court volunteer programs, the trusted and experienced legal team at Dimic Law provide an unparalleled sense of clarity and guidance during this time.

In addition to helping individuals and businesses navigate this complex process, Dimic Law is providing the community with advice on how to prevent finding themselves in a foreclosure. From being conscious of your budget to maintaining 6 to 12 months in savings and staying on top of property taxes can help Albertans grapple with the ongoing economic challenges.

Steve Dimic is available upon request for interviews and to provide tips on navigating a residential or commercial foreclosure.
