Dimic Law Provides Legal Guidance to Those Facing Foreclosure

Calgary, Alta - Dimic Law (#60, 180 94 Ave SE), a Calgary based law firm is supporting Calgarians facing potential foreclosure. Canadians have seen mortgage rates rise by 75 basis points in 2023 with no forecast for rates to drop for the remainder of the year. With current Alberta mortgage rates hovering between six and seven percent, many individuals are now unable to make payments on their properties and are facing the reality of foreclosure. Foreclosures have been up 25% for the past several years and this has left individuals looking to find out their rights when it comes to a foreclosure scenario. Steve Dimic, Founder of Dimic Law can provide advice and guidance on dealing with foreclosure situations.

“With the current economic situation, many individuals are facing foreclosure on their properties. The reality is that many do not know their rights when it comes to facing foreclosure and what legal options they have,” says Steve Dimic, Founder of Dimic Law. “At Dimic Law we see many different types of foreclosure situations and can provide individuals and businesses with the support and advice they need to make the best decisions for themselves and their future financial situation.”

As the foreclosure process can legally begin after just one missed payment, Dimic Law recognizes the importance of educating the public about their rights and potential courses of action. While several resources are available for those at risk of a repossession including Calgary Legal Guidance, student legal assistance and court volunteer programs, the trusted and experienced legal team at Dimic Law provide an unparalleled sense of clarity and guidance during this time.

In addition to helping individuals and businesses navigate this complex process, Dimic Law is providing the community with advice on how to prevent finding themselves in a foreclosure. From being conscious of your budget to maintaining 6 to 12 months in savings and staying on top of property taxes can help Albertans grapple with the ongoing economic challenges.

Steve Dimic is available upon request for interviews and to provide tips on navigating a residential or commercial foreclosure.
